AGOSCI 10th Biennial National Conference

Adelaide Convention Centre
11-14 May 2011

The conference

The AGOSCI Biennial Conference will be held at the magnificent Adelaide Convention Centre in 2011.

The program will include keynote addresses and presentations from Australian and international speakers, preconference workshops, and a stimulating social program, including a welcoming cocktail party, celebration of AGOSCI's 30th birthday and a formal dinner.

Taking it to the streets

The conference theme – taking it to the streets – is designed to encourage thought, innovation and action that will increase understanding and awareness both within and outside of the disability sector.

This conference will be of interest to individuals experiencing complex communication needs (CCN), family and community members, teachers, speech pathologists, occupational therapists and other professionals.

What is AGOSCI?

AGOSCI is a group representing people with CCN as well as those who live, know or work with people with CCN.

AGOSCI aims to lobby for the rights of people with CCN, increase public awareness of CCN, and to provide relevant educational and professional development events across Australia.
